Council Tax Reductions

Do you have or know someone who has Alzheimer's Disease?

You could be entitled to a council tax exemption or discount. To qualify your condition must be certified by your GP and you must be entitled to certain benefits.

Here are some examples where you may qualify for exemption or discount:

You live alone and have Alzheimer's Disease. You could be entitled to a 100 percent exemption.

Your household consists of two adults and either one or both of you have Alzheimer's Disease. You could be entitled to an exemption or discount.

Your home is empty while you receive care elsewhere. You could be entitled to a 100 percent exemption.

If someone lives with you other than your spouse or partner to provide care. You could be entitled to a discount.

If any of the above categories apply to you, please contact the Council Tax Office for further information and the appropriate application form.
