

MAP 7

Reproduced from the Ordnance Survey map with the permission of the controller of Her Majesty's Stationery Office © Crown Copyright Licence No: 100023393.
Unauthorised reproduction infringes Crown Copyright and may lead to prosecution or civil proceedings.

Produced by the Technical Section
Development Plans

POINTS OF INTEREST
1	Whiting Bay Golf Club
2	Glenashdale Wood - (Fort; Bloomery)
3	Torr an Loisgte - (Chambered Cairn)
4	Giant's Graves - (Chambered Cairns)
5	Torlin - (Chambered Cairn)

Path No.	Path Name	Path Type	Length
AR231	Kilmory Square	Aggregate and grass	1.3 km
AR232	Torrylinn	Aggregate and grass	0.9 km
AR235	Forest Cycle Route – Kilmory to AR246	Road, track and forest road	5.9 km
AR246	Forest Cycle Route – Kilmory to Lamlash	Road and forest road	13.9 km
AR263	Largybeg to Largymeanoch	Forest road	0.9 km
AR265	Giants Graves to Glenashadale Falls	Forest road	2.1 km
AR266	Largymeanoch to Giants Graves	Forest road	0.9 km
AR268	Glenashadale Falls	Aggregate	1.9 km
AR270	Glenashadale Track from AR269 to Forest Road	Aggregate	1.0 km

Copyright Arran Bike Club

Copyright Forestry Commission Scotland

Copyright Forestry Commission Scotland

Copyright Forestry Commission Scotland

Forestry Commission Scotland

The Forestry Commission first came to Arran in 1950 and on behalf of the people of Scotland, own and manage about a quarter of the Island, 11,000 hectares. Much of the land was planted with Sitka Spruce, a fast growing tree suited to the wet mild climate providing a useful timber. The forests are now reaching maturity and harvesting is well underway. Arran's forests have so much to offer for outdoor recreation. If you want to explore, there are more than a dozen trails of all lengths and abilities from 30-minute strolls to half-day moorland routes. There are lochs and waterfalls to discover, especially Glenashdale with its spectacular viewpoint over the falls. Cairns and stone circles built by previous peoples are left for us to puzzle over and marvel at. Red squirrels and hen harrier are a common sight from the forest trails and roads.

There is an informative leaflet available about the different places to visit in the forest and ranger-led walks during the Wildlife and Outdoor Festivals and with other island organisations.

Kilmory

Kildonan

Whiting Bay

Points of Interest

Railway Station

Car Park

National Trust for Scotland

Adjacent Map Number

Core Path (Existing)

Core Path (Proposed)